VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY

Commencement 2013

May 11, 2013

Dear Class of 2013,

Virginia Commonwealth University is unlike any place, and as the newest graduates of VCU, you are unlike anyone. You are graduating as leaders in your fields and in your communities, as innovators, as job creators and not just job takers.

In the 175 years since its founding, VCU has grown from being the medical department of another college to what is today a top 50 national research university with an unwavering commitment to student success, research excellence, human health and community engagement. You are graduating from one of America's great public research universities. As such, your educational experience has been about more than completing your courses and earning a grade. It has been about considering and supporting others while you learn, about creating opportunities for yourself and those around you, about using your knowledge to solve real problems and make a real difference in the world. At VCU, "Make it real" is a mantra, not a motto.

As you graduate from VCU today, always remember that your opportunities are boundless because your education is limitless.

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students and alumni of VCU, I congratulate you on the remarkable achievement of your commencement. We are proud of you and look forward to your staying connected to your alma mater forever.

Best wishes,

Michael Rao, Ph.D.
President
VCU and VCU Health System

Edward A. Wayne Medal

2013 Recipients

Margaret and FitzGerald Bemiss

The Edward A. Wayne Medal was established in 1971 to honor individuals who have made outstanding contributions or provided exemplary services to Virginia Commonwealth University. Presented by the president at Commencement, the medal is named in honor of Edward A. Wayne, who was chair of the commission that led to the establishment of Virginia Commonwealth University in 1968 by the Virginia General Assembly. Mr. Wayne served as the university's first vice rector.

Margaret and
FitzGerald Bemiss
Edward A. Wayne Medal

FitzGerald Bemiss represented the city of Richmond in the House of Delegates and Virginia Senate for 12 years, beginning in 1955. A strong advocate for conservation issues in Virginia and beyond, Mr. Bemiss also served as chair of the board at Woodberry Forrest School, as president of the Virginia Historical Society and was appointed vice chair of the U.S. Naval Academy by former President George H.W. Bush.

Margaret Bemiss graduated from the VCU School of Arts and Sciences in 1978 and served on the VCU Board of Visitors during the presidency of Edmund F. Ackell, M.D., D.M.D. She serves on the Garden Club of Virginia's Restoration and Fellowship committees, and researched and authored "Historic Gardens of Virginia," a book describing the restoration of historic gardens by the club from 1975 to 2007. She also serves on the Steering Committee of the VCU Parkinson's and Movement Disorders Center.

Until Mr. Bemiss' death two years ago, he suffered from Parkinson's disease, and in 2008, he and Mrs. Bemiss made a gift of $1 million to endow a chair to recruit a director for what would become the VCU Parkinson's and Movement Disorders Center. That initial gift, in addition to their vision and tireless work with other volunteers to bring the private gift total to $5 million — which the dean of the School of Medicine matched to create a total of $10 million for the project — helped the center become a reality.

Academic Costume

The academic costume worn at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical habits, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, not just on special occasions but as their regular attire.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect the tonsured head. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early 16th century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Graduates from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown comes from the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have gowns of different colors.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

University Medallion

Serving as a perpetual symbol of Virginia Commonwealth University, the University Medallion is worn by the president at ceremonial occasions. The Egyptian Building, a historical and architectural landmark on the MCV Campus and the oldest medical education building in the south, is the centerpiece of the medallion. Egyptian hieroglyphics and images surrounding the building stand for medicine, the arts, the home, the community, writing and wisdom, measures and numbers, time, knowledge, and the sciences. These images represent VCU's mission of teaching, research, public service and patient care.

Recipients of Degrees

Because of rigid time requirements, this program must be printed before the final list of degree candidates and final graduation honor status for undergraduate students can be determined. The exclusion of the name of a student is not to be taken as indication of official status as a nongraduate, nor is the inclusion of a name of a student to be taken as certification of official status as a graduate. Only undergraduate students are eligible for honors designations. These designations do not apply to the degrees received by graduate students.

University Honors and Awards

Students Graduating with the Award of University Honors

VCU bestows the accolade of "graduation with University Honors" on graduating seniors who have attained distinction through impressive achievement in course work as well as other formal and informal educational experiences. To merit this distinction, students must complete a rigorous honors curriculum, excel in their academic work and submit an academic dossier that reflects their commitment to learning in the best university tradition. Their petition to graduate with University Honors must be approved by the Honors College Council. The medallions worn by these students at Commencement recognize this achievement; this distinction also is noted on the students' official transcripts and on their diplomas.

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society founded in 1897. The Virginia Commonwealth University chapter was established in 1976. The primary objectives of the society are to promote the pursuit of excellence in all fields of higher education and to recognize outstanding achievement by students, faculty and others through election to membership and various awards for distinguished achievement.

Phi Kappa Phi typifies the honor society's ideal characteristic of American higher education, for it exists for the dual purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who attain high scholastic achievement and encouraging those students who are capable of doing so.

Phi Kappa Phi is unique because it recognizes scholarship in all academic disciplines and does not restrict membership to a specific field. Its interest and eligibility are extended across all subjects offered at the modern university and, by so doing, the society highlights the importance of appreciating and understanding more than a single limited specialty.

Virginia Commonwealth University

As one of only 28 public universities with academic medical centers to be designated by the Carnegie Foundation as "Community Engaged" with "Very High Research Activity," Virginia Commonwealth University has cemented its reputation as one of the nation's top 50 public research universities.

Under the leadership of President Michael Rao, Ph.D., VCU boasts more than $260 million in funded research, as well as 32 graduate programs ranked nationally by U.S. News & World Report. And, through the guidance of its strategic plan, Quest for Distinction, VCU remains poised to further its status as a premier, urban public institution able to meet the demands of diverse populations through impactful research, rigorous study and extensive community engagement.

This mission traces its roots to two institutions: the Medical College of Virginia, established in 1838 as the medical department of Hampden-Sydney College, and the Richmond School of Social Economy, founded independently in 1917 and operated as the Richmond division of The College of William & Mary beginning in 1925.

MCV, after gaining independence in 1854, became state-affiliated in 1860, while in 1939, The College of William & Mary changed the name of its Richmond division to Richmond Professional Institute, which then went on to become an independent state institution in 1962.

Spurred by recommendations set forth in a 1967 legislative report commissioned by Edward A. Wayne Sr., president of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, city and state leaders began to envision a comprehensive and diverse urban university born from the infrastructure and resources of MCV and RPI. In 1968, Gov. Mills E. Goodwin Jr. signed that bold vision into existence as VCU.

Today, VCU serves an integral role in the economic and cultural vitality of the city and the state, educating the current and future workforce, reaching out to the community, advancing research and enhancing patient care.

The university enrolls more than 31,000 students in 223 degree and certificate programs in the arts, sciences and humanities. Sixty-eight of the programs are unique in Virginia, many of them crossing the disciplines of VCU's 13 schools and one college. VCU has a full-time instructional faculty of more than 2,000 who are nationally and internationally recognized for excellence in the arts, business, education, engineering, the humanities, the life sciences, social work and all the health care professions.

VCU students and faculty live and work in locations around the state and around the world, including at the VCU School of the Arts in Qatar, which has been awarding fine arts degrees since 2002. The School of Medicine and the School of Pharmacy collaborated with the Inova Health System in Northern Virginia to establish the VCU-Inova Campus for third- and fourth-year medical and pharmacy students, and the School of Pharmacy opened a second satellite location for Doctor of Pharmacy students at the University of Virginia Medical Center in Charlottesville.

As one of the pre-eminent, comprehensive academic medical centers in the nation — and the No. 1 hospital in the state as ranked in 2012 by U.S. News & World Report — the VCU Medical Center offers state-of-the-art care in more than 200 specialty areas, many of national and international note, including organ transplantation, head and spinal cord trauma, burn healing and cancer treatment.

VCU and the VCU Health System have been honored with prestigious national and international recognition for top-quality graduate, professional and medical-care programs, reflecting a commitment to be among America's top research universities focused on student learning.
